Featured Speakers

Will Graham, the grandson of Billy Graham, will tell the story of how the baton of evangelism has been passed from one generation to another. He speaks across the USA, Canada, and has held evangelistic celebrations in India and China. Will and his wife live near Asheville, N.C. and have three young children.

The highlight of Paul Henderson's career in the NHL was scoring the winning goal in the 1972 Summit Series; but that is not "the goal of his life". He now influences leaders with the message of Christ. Paul and his wife work with FamilyLife Canada, a ministry associated with Power to Change (Campus Crusade).

Jamie McIntosh is the Canadian Director of International Justice Mission, a leader with a vision and new course of action, bringing God's justice to a broken world. IJM rescues victims of violence, sexual exploitation, slavery and oppression. Jamie's special interest is for children at risk, and provides counsel and support to IJM staff overseas.

Jackie Pullinger returns to Vancouver to tell how her work in the notorious walled city of Hong Kong has survived opposition from drug lords and a communist take-over. Daily she contacts people living in some of the worst conditions one could imagine. It's a story of redemption and powerful transformation in Hong Kong's slums.

Alex Ribeiro raced on the F-1 circuit and is now the chaplain of the Brazilian National Soccer Team. He mentors high-profile Christian athletes, coaching them as they use their public platform to share their faith. Alex is Director of the International Sports Ministries Coalition, giving leadership to the Atletas de Cristo movement.
